RED ZONE:

DO NOT CUT ANY HAIR BY LESS THAN A #2 GUARD*

From the line connecting point A to point B and all hair below until line C

YELLOW ZONE:

CUSTOMARILY TREATED AS RED ZONE

The area between the straight and arched lines connecting point A to point B

ORANGE ZONE:

SOME TREAT AS RED ZONE

Extending sideburns from line C to Line D

Insures a preferred minimum hair length of .20" (5mm)
Under no circumstance should the hair be cut so short—even with scissors— that it can't be grasped with one's fingernails*

- A Where hairline of the temple meets the main hairline (on some people this point may be somewhat receded)
- B Highpoint of hairline that goes around the upper ear
- C Line is below the protruding bone (felt when mouth is closed) which is also equal to the bottom of ear canal hole
- D Line is at bottom of the ear cartilage (excluding lobe)
