Shatnez found in RUTY Sweater-Jacket

The RUTY, wool-knit sweater-jacket, shown in the picture above, has shatnez. It contains linen in the plaid trimming. This sweater-jacket was sold at a Jewish store in Lakewood, NJ. It was the last one, sold recently at a final sale.

This finding surprised the Lakewood Shatnez Laboratory. These sweater-jackets were sold throughout the past fall and winter and not a single one was tested locally or reported by another shatnez laboratory. We request that the public check their closets for these jackets.
